

Teaching and Learning Experience Sharing (TALES) Workshop

Engaging students as partners to be active learners and researchers

Professor Mick HEALEY

HE Consultant, Researcher and Emeritus Professor University of Gloucestershire, UK
(www.mickhealey.co.uk)

Date: 13 December 2018 (Thursday) Venue: ACC209

2/F, Jockey Club Academic Community Centre,
Baptist University Road Campus, HKBU

🕒 Open Lecture 11:00-12:30

Ways of engaging students in higher education as partners in learning and teaching is arguably one of the most important issues facing higher education in the 21st Century. Partnership is essentially a process for engaging students, though not all engagement involves partnership. It is a way of doing things, rather than an outcome in itself. This interactive session will explore four ways in which students may be engaged as partners through: a) Learning, teaching and assessment; b) Subject-based research and inquiry; c) Scholarship of teaching and learning; and d) Curriculum design and pedagogic advice and consultancy. Particular attention will be paid to how students may be engaged as active learners and researchers. It will draw on numerous case studies from different parts of the world.

🕒 Workshop 14:30-17:00

This session is designed for staff and students who would like to build on the morning session and explore issues involved in developing staff-student partnerships in more detail and think creatively about how to implement the ideas discussed into their own practices at course, department, faculty and institutional levels.

🕒 Biography

Mick Healey is an HE Consultant and Researcher and Emeritus Professor at the University of Gloucestershire, UK. Until 2010 he was Director of the Centre for Active Learning, a nationally funded Centre for Excellence in Teaching and Learning. He is currently The Humboldt Distinguished Scholar in Research-Based Learning at McMaster University, Canada. From 2014-17 he was visiting professor at UCL, helping them embed the Connected Curriculum across the institution. He was one of the first people in the UK to be awarded a National Teaching Fellowship and to be made a Principal Fellow of the HE Academy. In 2015 he received the Distinguished Service Award from the International Society for the Scholarship of Teaching and Learning. Since 1995 he has given over 500 educational presentations in 25 different countries. Mick has written and edited around 200 papers, chapters, books and guides on various aspects of teaching and learning in HE. He has over 8,000 citations. He was co-editor of the International Journal for Academic Development (2010-13) and is currently Inaugural Senior Editor International Journal for Students as Partners. He is often asked to act as an advisor to projects, universities and governments on aspects of teaching and learning, including the Canadian Federal Government and the League of European Research Universities. This will be Mick's third visit to universities in Hong Kong.

Enquiries and Registration

For enquiries:
(852) 3411-7231

Please visit
<http://cht1.hkbu.edu.hk/regworkshop/login.php>
and register now!

