

ECHO360: GETTING STARTED

1

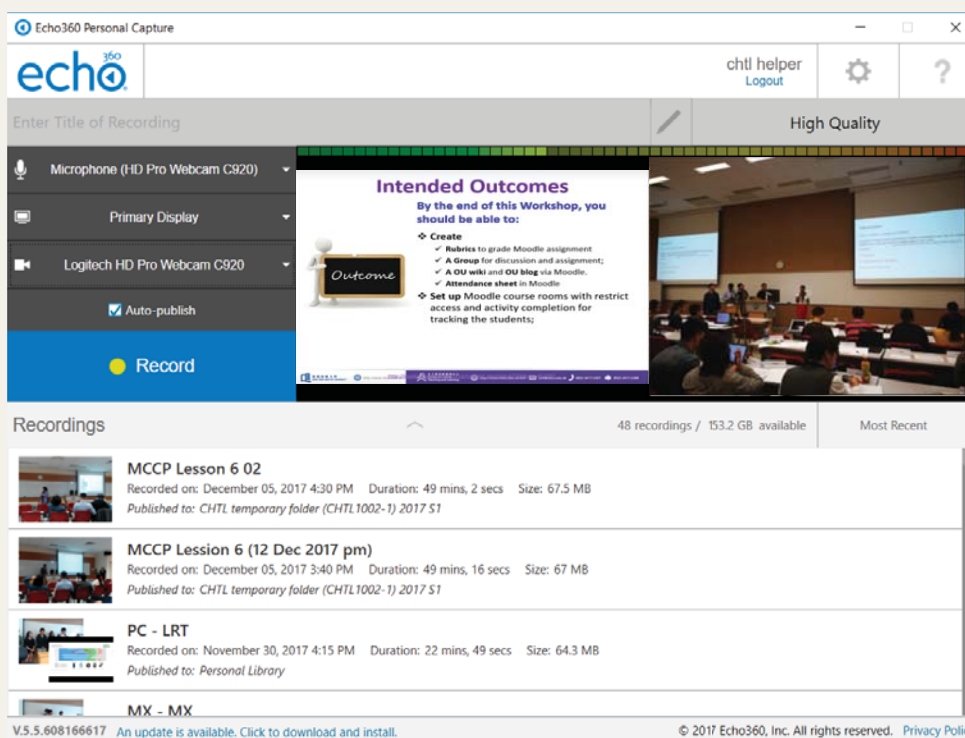

What is Echo360?

Echo360 is a set of software tools for you to video-capture your lessons and presentations in classrooms. The in-class (PowerPoint slides, demonstrations, videos etc.) being shown on your computer screen can be captured at the same time.

Echo360 is a self-help recording tool – this means you need to start/stop the recording by yourself.

2

Before starting to use Echo360, you are required to contact the Centre for Holistic Teaching and Learning (CHTL) via email for enabling your access to the tools:

1. Please send your course codes, venues, class schedules and special requirements (if any) to buelearn@hkbu.edu.hk.
2. CHTL colleagues will contact you once your access to Echo360 has been set up, with the details of a training session which lets you familiarise with the tools.
